Subject: EOCCG Update 20: Planned Truck Demonstration

Good evening,

Police operations commenced this morning at approximately 7:30 am. The corridor around Nicholas and Waller Streets was cleared (and secured) by Public Order Units under the direction of the unified command in control of policing in Ottawa. Law enforcement activities then moved towards the Rideau/Sussex intersection, with police working this evening in the area in front of the Chateau Laurier. Police have made well over 100 arrests today and have towed at least 21 vehicles. OPP have also been doing an excellent job at intercepting new convoys destined for Ottawa (e.g., at staging areas outside of the City).

The City's EOC has been working all day to coordinate and implement various requests from Police in support of the current enforcement operations. This includes but is not limited to: snow clearing; provision of buses; traffic management; installation of fencing; facility access; and, deployment of paramedic resources. Of note, Transit Services has received strong praise today from law enforcement partners for their on-going work in helping to shuttle police officers to various locations. The OC Transpo service was described as exceptional and the drivers commended for their professionalism.

The EOC is aware of several impacts to essential services in the downtown core, as a result of the new secured area and associated police checkpoints. While the checkpoints are necessary to support police operations, essential workers are experiencing challenges getting to work. The Montfort hospital, for example, have had to provide hotel accommodations for some staff members to facilitate their presence at work. The EOC also had to work with the NCRCC today to facilitate essential worker entry into the secured area, including for Human Needs Task Force staff trying to access the physical distancing centre on Nicholas Street.

Of note, United Way East Ontario has established a fund of $50,000 to help address the increased needs of community agencies as a result of the prolonged demonstrations. Funds are meant to help cover unplanned costs, including facility security, food hampers and delivery capacity, and hotel/transportation for clients and staff.

The EOC expects Police operations to continue all weekend. The remaining protesters are determined, and even with some of their leaders having now been arrested, they present an on-going challenge to Police.
